[Price 4d.]

THE Act for taking the Census of England required that the 31,000 Enumerators should copy into Books the Householders' Schedules and other particulars collected in their several districts. These Books were to be placed, with the Schedules, in the hands of the 2197 Registrars, who were to subject them to a strict examination, and make all necessary corrections. Before the 30th April the Enumerators' Books and other Documents were to be transferred to the 631 Superintendent Registrars, who were required to test the accuracy of their contents by a further process of revision.

The Superintendent Registrars were allowed a short time for the purpose of returning the revised Books to the Census Office, where they have still to undergo strict and minute revision, before any detailed and exact statement of results can be given. As this essential labor must, however, of necessity, engage much time, it has been thought desirable not to withhold from the public such an approximation to the general results as might be obtained without waiting for the entire completion of this series of checks. The Registrars, therefore, were desired to forward to the Census Office summaries of the population and houses within their respective districts.

From these summaries have been chiefly compiled the following Tables, which must be taken to represent the results of the Census according to the statements of the local officers, previous to the revision now in progress at the central Office. And although minute accuracy is not to be looked for, yet it is apprehended that the alterations which a careful revision of the original documents may render necessary will not be of importance sufficient to lessen the value of the figures as materials for whatever general inferences may fairly be drawn from them.

Table I. comprises the population enumerated on April 8th, 1861, in England and Wales and the Islands in the British Seas, amounting to 20,205,504. The portion of the Army, Royal Navy, and Merchant Seamen out of the country at the time of the Census is not included, and as it appears from official returns that the Army abroad amounted to about 137,000, the Royal Navy and Marines absent from the UNITED KINGDOM to about 42,900, and the Merchant Seamen absent on voyages to about 96,000, it may be assumed that the numbers of these classes belonging to ENGLAND and WALES were collectively not less than 162,021, mostly adult males.

Table II. exhibits the number of houses and the population enumerated in England and Wales in 1851 and 1861, with the increase in the interval.

Table III. shows the population of England and Wales at each of the Censuses, 1801-61, including the Army, Navy, and Merchant Seamen abroad as well as at home, with the increase in each decennial period. The actual increase of population (2,169,576), between 1851 and 1861, was greater than in any previous decennial period, but the rate of increase, owing to active emigration, had somewhat diminished.

Table IV. presents a comparative view of the number of Houses enumerated at each of the Censuses.

Table V. shows the houses and population enumerated in the COUNTIES (proper) in 1851 and 1861, together with the increase or decrease of persons in each county in the period between the enumerations.

In Table VI. the numbers of inhabited houses and of the population in 1851 and 1861, with the increase or decrease of persons in the interval, are presented for each of the 631 Superintendent Registrars DISTRICTS into which England is divided. These Districts are for the most part co-extensive with single Poor Law Unions, or two or more Unions combined, but in some instances they consist of places in which the relief of the poor is regulated under Local Acts or otherwise than by the Poor Law Amendment Act. A column is added in this Table, showing the excess of registered births over deaths in the ten years 1851-60; but in comparing these numbers with the ascertained increase or decrease it is necessary to bear in mind that the whole of the births are not registered. No birth can be recorded after six months, and registration is not compulsory, so in the present state of the law many births are not entered in the registers, especially in London and the large towns.

Table VII. is framed from the details in Table VI. The Superintendent Registrars' Districts are grouped together in 11 Divisions, each comprising the whole, or nearly the whole, of the several counties named. In the columns showing the ascertained increase of population and the excess of births over deaths in these Divisions may be traced the powerful stream of immigration into the principal centres of trade and the seats of mining and manufacturing industry. Thus in London (Division I.) where the excess of registered births over deaths was 253,989, the influx of persons from other parts had raised the actual increase to 440,798; in the Eastern Division (IV.), consisting of the counties of Essex, Suffolk, and Norfolk, the ascertained increase was only 28,220, while the natural increase or excess of births over deaths was 129,726.

In Table VIII. the houses and population in the principal CITIES and BOROUGHs in 1861 are stated chiefly on the authority of the Superintendent Registrars in whose districts the places are wholly or partly comprised. The municipal and parliamentary boundaries are frequently not conterminous with those of parishes or other local sub-divisions, and great care is required in assigning the population within their exact limits. It is probable that sufficient attention to questions of boundary has not been given in some cases by the local officers in preparing these statements within the limited time allowed them. The numbers must therefore be received as approximations only, subject to revision hereafter at the Census Office. This Table includes only corporate towns and boroughs returning members to Parliament; several large towns consequently do not appear in it.

Tables IX. and X., referring to the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man, require no explanation.

Table XI. relates to Emigration. According to the Returns of the Emigration Commissioners 2,249,355 emigrants sailed from the ports of the United Kingdom in the interval between the Census of March 31st, 1851, and the Census of April 8th, 1861. But 194,532 of the number were probably of foreign origin, leaving 2,054,823 emigrants from the population of the United Kingdom; of whom about 640,210 were of English origin, 183,627 were of Scotch origin, and 1,230,986 were of Irish origin.

We reserve any further observations for the Report which will accompany the detailed abstracts.

NOTE.—Between 1831 and 1841 the population of the Islands collectively increased about 18 per cent., and between 1841 and 1851 about 15 per cent. Between 1851 and 1861 a decrease took place in the Isle of Man and in Jersey ; while Guernsey would also have shown a decrease but for the circumstance of military force in that island as well as in Alderney having been larger in 1861 than at the previous Census.

1860 -	128,469	26,421	8,733	60,835	4,536	27,944
TOTAL -	2,287,205	454,422	121,530	736,731	115,353	154,439

NOTE.—It appears from the above Table that 2,287,205 Emigrants sailed from the Ports of the United Kingdom in the ten years 1851-60. Of that number, 1,582,475 emigrated in the eight years 1853-60; and 454,422 were found to be English, 121,530 Scotch, 736,731 Irish, and 115,353 foreigners. The origin of 154,439 Emigrants was not ascertained. If we assume that these unascertained numbers should be distributed proportionally over the rest, the numbers of the several Classes will be shown in the annexed Table.

The Emigrants in the first three months of 1851 were 56,584, consequently the number in the two years 1851-2, namely 704,730, have to be reduced to 648,146 to obtain the number of Emigrants in the interval extending from 1st April 1851 to 31st December 1852. The nationality was not then distinguished, but a large proportion of the Emigrants was of Irish origin, and the best estimate will be made by assuming that the proportions were the same as in 1853; the results appear in the Table. 18,734 Emigrants sailed from the United Kingdom in the portion of 1861 terminating on April 8th, the Census day, and they have been distributed in Classes in the proportions ascertained to exist in 1860.

ESTIMATED NUMBER of FOUR CLASSES of EMIGRANTS in the Interval between the Census of 1851 and 1861.

YEARS.	TOTALS.	English.	Scotch.	Irish.	Foreigners.
Total - - -	2,249,355	640,210	183,627	1,230,986	194,532

1861 (to April 7th) - -	18,734(?)	4,924(?)	1,628(?)	11,337(?)	845(?)

It may be inferred from the official returns that the Emigration from the United Kingdom was not less than—
717,913 in the interval of the Censuses 1831 and 1841;
1,692,063 ditto ditto 1841 and 1851; and
2,249,355 ditto ditto 1851 and 1861.

* The Registration Counties consist of groups of entire Registration Districts, which Districts are generally identical with the Poor Law Unions. Whenever a District extends into more than one County it is assigned wholly to that county in which the greater part of the population is located, hence most of the Registration Counties differ more or less from the Counties Proper.

* In this statement the amount of the two classes of orders issued (viz. those for sums up to 2*l.*, and those for sums above 2*l.* up to 5*l.*), and the number and amount of the different classes of orders paid is estimated. Further, it will be observed that the number and amount of orders paid in the United Kingdom is in excess of the number and amount issued. This is caused by the excess in the number and amount of orders of Canadian issue included in the payments over the number and amount of issues on Canada by the United Kingdom included in the issues.

NOTE BY LEICESTER CHAMBER OF COMMERCE:—

PLAIN HOSIERY AND UNDER CLOTHING.—The increase in the rate of wages in this branch since 1840 is variously estimated:—in narrow machinery, from $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 10 per cent., and in wide machinery from 15 to 25 per cent. for men, and probably 10 per cent. for women. The narrow frames are old fashioned machinery employed principally as a domestic manufacture, and capable of producing as much in the hands of women or stout youths, as if worked by able-bodied men. The result cannot fairly be considered as representing the earnings of able-bodied men, as this class of machinery is frequently used as an adjunct to some other employment, as gardening, harvesting, &c. Their use is gradually diminishing, and with the competition of the new wide frames will no doubt still rapidly diminish. The employment of women as "Seamers," from the circumstances of the trade is ill-paid, being generally a partial employment to fill up spare time; and being in competition with children's labour, the amount paid is in a great measure in accordance with the latter.

FANCY HOSIERY AND UNDER CLOTHING.—The rate of wages in this branch of trade is not lower than in 1840, fixed salaries having advanced. The rate of earnings of skilled labourers is dependent upon each individual capacity, and is somewhat difficult to arrive at. The rates of wages for this branch have been estimated for full employment, as in consequence of the Fancy Hosiery Trade being a season trade, employment is not constant, and the wages range above those paid in the plain trade.

YARN.—The rate of wages in this trade are slightly higher than in 1840, probably from 5 to 10 per cent.

DYEING, TRIMMING, AND DRESSING HOSIERY AND LOOPED FABRICS.—The rate of wages in this branch not materially altered since 1840, but not lower.

* NOTES BY WOLVERHAMPTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE :—
 PUDDLING.—The price for Puddling has of late years been made to depend on the list-price for Bars. The Puddler receives as many shillings per ton as are quoted pounds; but, occasionally, as when Bars are very low, the rule is departed from.
 SHEET ROLLING.—The rates quoted are for ordinary work. For more difficult rolling higher prices are paid, but less can be done. They vary with the wages, being 9s. 6d. when Puddling is 10s. One shearer and his four boys shear for two rollers.
 SHEET ROLLING.—Rates vary with Puddlers' wages, being 12s. when Puddling is 10s. For difficult work higher prices are paid, but less can be done. For very thin sheets the rates are much higher than those quoted.
 BAR ROLLING.—The prices quoted are for ordinary work. For more difficult rolling higher prices are paid, but less can be done. They vary with the wages, being 6s. when Puddling is 10s.
 HOOP ROLLING.—The same remarks apply here. When Puddling is 10s., Hoop Rolling is 9s. (For Miners' Wages, see p. 258.)

IRON FOUNDRY AND HOLLOW-WARE.—All these workers, except warehouse women and boys, are paid by piece work.
 COOPERAGE AND FURNITURE.—These workers are paid by piece-work. They seldom work more than five days a week.
 TOOLS.—All these men, except Labourers, are paid by piece-work. A Tilter has to serve an apprenticeship to his trade, and it requires skill to tilt, hence the high rate of wages. Tilters are obliged to work regularly, as the tilt-hammer goes by steam power, and they must be at work when the is on.

* FILES.—All these men are paid by piece-work. The prices for file cutting rose in 1854. This is a very dangerous and unhealthy trade. The grinds sometimes fly to pieces, and kill or injure the men. The particles of steel and dust get to their lungs. Hence the high rate of wages.

LARGE KEYS.—These workers are paid by the dozen, not by the day.

STOCK LOCKS.—These workmen are paid by the dozen. There are great fluctuations in the prices paid, as they rise and fall with the demand for these locks.

BRASS CABINET LOCKS.—Casters and Locksmiths are paid by piece-work, and their wages consequently vary considerably. A quick and skilful Locksmith can earn 30s., or even more.

BRASS COCKS AND GAS FITTINGS.—Casters and Finishers are paid by piece-work. The men sometimes work only two or three days in the week, sometimes they work over-time.

CABINET BRASS WORK.—Casters and Finishers are paid by piece-work. They pay their own boys, but the earnings set down here are what they receive after paying their boys.

Stone Mine -	2 6 to 3 9	2	6	2	3	3	3	Stone Mine -	3 3	2	10½

It must be observed that a day's wages to Miners means the pay for a certain stint or measure of coal or stone, varying according to the pits and seams in which they work ; and that this stint is always much less than a skilful Miner can do in 12 hours, consequently the wages paid to a good workman for 12 hours' work are always much higher than the prices quoted above.

NOTE BY DUNDEE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—Hand-loom Weavers have been earning from 8s. to 12s. per week, say on an average 10s. 6d.; but as reported in previous return, hand-loom weaving is gradually being superseded by power-loom weaving. As an instance, it may be mentioned that since the previous return, made to the Board of Trade, several power-loom factories have been erected in Forfar, up to which time all the fabrics made there were woven entirely by hand.

NOTE BY EDINBURGH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE:—

(a) Slaters. The hours in winter are shorter, but wages the same as in summer.

(b) Painters. About one third of the less skilled and steady workmen are unemployed for nearly four months in winter.

(c) This high average is exceeded in some shops, and is caused by combination which prevents employers engaging more than a very limited number of apprentices.

(d) Tailors. Cutters are paid very high wages, varying 1*l.* 4*s.* to 5*l.* 5*s.* a week. All the ordinary workmen work by the piece, at rates to yield on an average 24*s.* for a week of 72 hours; but the actual wages vary much according to skill, and for a considerable portion of the year the greater number have not full employment.

(e) A closer with 2 boys and a machine may earn 3*l.* to 4*l.* a week.

* On 31st December 1861 this Company had 123 agreements with Railway Companies and with Public Offices for the transmission of their Business Messages. The number of such Messages is not precisely recorded, but is estimated as amounting to three times the number of Messages sent by the general public. This Company had, on the same date, contracts for supplying intelligence to 175 Journals, and to 99 Institutions, but no record is kept of the exact extent of the matter transmitted. It is, however, estimated that this intelligence, in addition to the continental work passing over the Company's Submarine Cables, amounted, at the date referred to, to a total of 756,485 Messages.

† The number of Messages to and from the Continent transmitted jointly by this Company and the Submarine Telegraph Company, and the number of Messages for Railway Companies, Newspapers, and News Rooms, are not included with the Messages for the Public, but are estimated at about 250,000 Messages per annum.

‡ The South-Eastern Railway Company has no working arrangements with either of the Electric Telegraph Companies.

§ Exclusive of private telegraphs provided by this Company for Firms and Persons having two places of business.

* The Registration Counties consist of groups of Superintendent Registrar's Districts or Poor Law Unions. Whenever a District or Union extends into more than one County, it is assigned wholly to that County in which the greater portion of the population is located, hence all the Registration Counties differ more or less from the Counties proper.

† The figures for Births, Marriages, and Deaths may be altered to a slight extent when finally revised.

* In this return the amount of the different classes of orders issued and the number and amount of the different classes of orders paid are estimated. Further, it will be observed that the number and amount of orders paid in the United Kingdom are in excess of the number and amount issued. This is caused by the excess in the number and amount of orders of colonial issue included in the payments over the number and amount of British issues on the Colonies included in the issues.

Note.—The Fiars are the Average Prices yearly, ascertained by the Sheriff, with the help of a Jury, of the several kinds of Grain the growth of his County, in the preceding crop.

* No Fiars for Oatmeal are struck in Haddingtonshire. The custom of the county has been for a long period to add 1s. per boll to the highest Fiars of Oats, to make the Fiars of Oatmeal, but recently this rule has been disputed and the matter is at present sub judice.

In this Department the rule prescribed by the Statute 48 Geo. III. ch. cxxxviii. (30th June 1808) is followed, and the Fiars of Berwickshire and Midlothian in medio are taken as the Fiars of Meal for Haddington.

* Narrow Frames. These are old fashioned machinery, now but little used, being superseded in a great measure by the wider frames. More employment would be found for these machines, but hands cannot be obtained, better paid labour being more plentiful.

† Circular Frames. This class of machinery is rapidly increasing, employing female labour, and producing a very large quantity of work. The Frames are driven by steam power, and used for low priced goods principally.

‡ Dyers are paid by the week.

10. IRON—AND IRON AND STEEL MANUFACTURES.

SOUTH STAFFORDSHIRE.
PUDDLED IRON.

NUMBER of PERSONS EMPLOYED, and WAGES PAID, for the Manufacture of 1,100 Tons of Puddled Iron, per Week, from 1,100 Tons of Pig Iron.

AVERAGE AMOUNT of WAGES PAID to each Class of Workmen Employed at the Furnaces in making 1 Ton of Puddled Iron.

It may be assumed that 18s. 6d. to 20s. per ton is expended on labour in forges in South Staffordshire.

This statement is made on the supposition that there are 100 puddling furnaces, but from experience it is found the whole never work full time; thus while a good workman would receive from 37s. 6d. to 40s. per week, the majority do not receive 35s.; and taking the present rate of wages, the average amount of idleness, illness, &c. &c., Puddlers, as a rule, make only from 30s. to 32s. 6d. per week.

Puddling best Iron, 12s. per ton; these men average 35s. to 40s. per week, say 5% of the whole.

The average yields of puddling furnaces throughout the Kingdom per annum is not more than 9 tons per week.

BAR IRON.

An average Mill produces, per day, 10 tons of bars under 2 cwt., at 5s. per ton.

A larger " " 12 to 15 " 6 cwt.,* at 7s. 6d. per ton.

* Increased weight of bars give an extra man as Trolly man, and increases the wages of all called boys, as men take their places.

HOOP IRON.

An ordinary Hoop Mill will produce from 4 to 5 to 9 tons per day, large and small sizes inclusive, and price paid per ton varies from 9s. to 21s. per ton.

Thus 9 tons at 9s. = 81s. per day.

5 tons at 17s. = 85s. "

allowing this to be quite above the actual work done.

SHEET AND PLATE IRON.

In Sheet Iron and Boiler Plate Mills the quantity varies so much that it is difficult to give accurate data, inasmuch as 20 tons of some sizes is a large make, and 80 tons of other sizes a small make.

Thus, for Sheet Rolling, 12s. to 13s. per ton for singles, 30 tons per week is a good make.

" "	15s. to 17s. "	for doubles, 24 "
" "	20s. to 22s. "	for lattice, 20 & 18 "

Divided between:—

Heavers-over - - - - -	6s. to 7s. "	Lads - - - - -	4s. to 5s. "

A Boiler Plate Mill varies in make from 50 tons to 100 tons, according to size of train, size and weight of plates rolled, and the number of heating furnaces; thus for example, we will take 75 tons as a good make, and 30% must be added or deducted to arrive at the maximum or minimum: for the lower quantity deduct 10% in labour, and for the larger add 15%.

Highest wages 10s. 6d., lowest 8s. 6d. per ton,

Divided thus:—	1 Roller.	2 Furnacemen.	1 Shearer.
	1 Helper.	2 Heavers-over.	2 Helpers.

Add to this the supplementary labour charges as in other Mills.

A Guide Mill or small Mill will make from 30 to 50 tons per week, and the price varies from 5s. 6d. per ton to 7s. 6d., to 15s., to 22s. 5s. 6d. represents 50 tons, 7s. 6d. represents 40 tons, 15s. represents 25 tons, 22s. represents 18 tons.

Divided thus:—	1 Roller	1 Catcher	1 Stocktaker.
	2 Furnacemen.	7 Lads.	1 " Assistant.
	1 Botterdown.

Add to this the supplementary labour charges proportionably.

NOTE.—To convert 1,000 tons of the different kinds of iron into finished Iron, the loss upon first processing is upon Bar 20%; Hoop 25% to 30%; Sheet 25% to 30%; and Plate 20% to 30%. It must be understood that the shearings or croppings are retained as scrap and valued back to the forge at Pig Iron Price, and reconverted into a superior quality.

HOURS OF LABOUR.

The average number of hours of labour are nominally 12; the actual working hours are from 8 to 9 in the Forges, and 10 to 10½ hours in the Mills. The general character of labour in Forges and Mills is intermittent, and it rarely happens that more than for 20 minutes any one single operation has to be followed up closely and consecutively. A Puddler is but rarely personally occupied five hours per day, an Assistant five hours; the majority work only four hours, although they are present in the works. Shinglers the same hours. Rollers, both Forge and Mill work, 7 to 9 hours. Furnacemen 4 to 5 hours. Lads, Helpers, &c., 7 to 9 hours.

* The Leicester Boot and Shoe Trade is a special wholesale manufacture of riveted instead of sewn goods, and consequently requires a different classification of persons employed. The above gives the average return of three principal manufacturers. The trade employs many thousand hands in Leicester and neighbourhood.

† Strikes have been very frequent in Leicester during the past two years. One builder, after the signing of the contract, has been subjected during the erection of a building to seven strikes in 12 months. The building trade has been very prosperous, Leicester having increased, according to the best calculations, from 25 to 30 per cent. in population since the Census of 1861, and it is still difficult to find a house for new comers.

* Under CORN CROPS are included Wheat, Barley, Oats, Rye, Beans, and Peas.

† Under GREEN CROPS are included Potatoes, Turnips and Swedes, Mangel, Carrots, Cabbage, Kohl Rabi, Rape, Vetches, Lucerne, and any other Crop, except Clover or Grass.

‡ The Returns of the Acreage under "Permanent Pasture" in Great Britain and in Ireland are not comparable, as Hill Pastures are excluded in Great Britain and included in Ireland. Totals and Per-centages omitted in places marked thus (‡) cannot, therefore, be given.

Note.—ACREAGE RETURNS FOR ENGLAND, WALES, AND SCOTLAND.—In these Divisions of the United Kingdom, the Acreage Returns have been collected from Occupiers of and above Five Acres of Land.

ACREAGE RETURNS FOR IRELAND.—The Returns are obtained by the Registrar General in Ireland from all Occupiers of Land. The detailed Returns for each County in Ireland will be found in the Annual Reports prepared by the Registrar-General, and laid before Parliament.

ACREAGE RETURNS FOR THE ISLE OF MAN AND CHANNEL ISLANDS.—In consequence of the Division of Land into small Estates the Acreage Returns have been collected from Occupiers of and above Two Acres in the Isle of Man; and One Acre in the Channel Islands.

LIVE STOCK RETURNS.—The Live Stock Returns in Great Britain, the Isle of Man, and Channel Islands, were collected, as in Ireland, from all Occupiers of Land.

The Returns of Cows in Great Britain included the Cows kept in Towns for Dairy Purposes.

The Number of Sheep returned for Great Britain, so far as relates to the Northern Counties of England and to Scotland, is probably short by a large Number of the Lambs of the present Year, in consequence of the Date (5th March) at which the Returns were made.

The Number of Pigs in Great Britain did not include Pigs kept in Towns nor by Occupiers of Cottages in the Country Districts.

* 1857 was the last of the years for which the Returns for Scotland were obtained through the agency of the Highland Society.

† The Returns for Ireland have been obtained annually since the year 1847.

‡ The difference between the Acreage of "Clover and Grass under Rotation" in the two Returns may be partly occasioned by the Returns not having been made upon quite the same system. "Permanent Pasture" not having been ascertained in 1857, more land was probably returned as "Grass under Rotation" in that year than in 1866.

* The Number of Mines includes only those which have paid Dues to the Stannary Court within the Year; a few other Mines, selling small Parcels of Tin Ore, may not have made their Returns until the following Year.

† The figures for the Total Quantities and Value of White Tin stated in Table No. 1, are those of the Production in the Calendar Year.

Previously to 1863 the Returns of the Tin produced were given for the year ending the 29th September. For 1863 and 1864 the Returns are complete to the end of the year, and this will be regularly continued with regard to Tin as with all the other metals.

This, of course, leaves the Returns of the three months from September 29th to December 31st 1862 unaccounted for. The following are the Returns for that period :—
